BUSINESS MODELS

Hybrid Model

In this model a major portion of a project is on a Fixed Price basis and at the same time resources are deployed on a Time and Materials Pricing basis. Adopting such a model enables the client to maximize their budgets' without compromising any aspect of the project itself.

Dedicated Development Center Model

A Dedicated development center, which is an extension of the customer's software engineering facility. The customer pays fixed monthly rate for the team.

Time and Material Model

Under this model we define the business model and work hand in hand with our client for end-to-end execution of project. The client pays a fixed hourly rate. At times once the scope is frozen the time and material project also gets converted to the fixed price model.

Fixed Price Model

The customer pays a pre-negotiated fixed price for the complete project, which in turn is linked to well-defined deliverables. For any change in scope a predefined fixed hourly rate agreed at the initial stage of start of project is paid. This model is best used when the scope of work is clear.
